

Franklin Poppies by CANDY MAYER

Since moving to El Paso from Iowa in 1999, Candy has embraced the area's culture and creates landscapes and still lifes of the Borderland in pastels, acrylics, pen & ink, and mixed media collage. She is known for her scenes of El Paso and Dia de los Muertos works, both of which she incorporated in her "Loteria" games. Her love of drawing and architecture is evident in her El Paso Downtown scenes. She also incorporates Guadalupe & Saints in a Mexican folk art style.

Her work is available at The Marketplace, 5034 Doniphan; and many area art shows, fairs and gift shops, as well as from her home studio.

Follow her on Facebook, Instagram & Pinterest at Candy Mayer Artist. See more of her work on www.pixels.com, www.icanvas.com and www.Etsy.com.

Sign up for her email newsletter on her web site: www.candymayer.com.

Violin photographed by Carlos D. Luevano