

violin by PATRICIA STOCKMEYER

"I have hunted in Africa several times. Therefore, I was asked to do an African theme for my violin entry."—Patricia Patricia Stockmeyer graduated from Radford School and then went on to attend Finch College in New York City, receiving an associates degree in science.

While at Finch, she designed the ExhiBRIS for the college library and was awarded a working scholarship for her 3rd year. She attended the University of Texas at Austin where she received a bachelor of fine arts degree.

Patricia married and had three children, moved to Houston and after many years renewed her love for painting. She studied portraiture with master George Campbell and watercolor with Karen George.

Patricia now lives in El Paso where she teaches oil painting at her house.

Violin photographed by Carlos D. Luevano